Risk Disclosure Statement

2. Warning - Beware of the Risks

Prior to purchasing, selling, trading or holding digital assets or otherwise using services of this website, you should be aware of the risks including, but not limited to the following:

- A. Market risks: Please note that due to unpredictable market conditions, the value of digital assets may be affected significantly by a wide range of factors (such as market volatility; market sentiment; domestic and international economic and political conditions, changes in government, monetary policies, taxation and other laws and regulations) The changing value of digital assets is unpredictable and uncertain. You must be highly cautious when buying, selling, acquiring, trading, or holding digital currencies.

- B. Liquidity and trading risks: Please note that there may be significant differences in market liquidity among digital assets. If market trading volume is scarce, its volatility may increase. The existing digital asset exchange markets may continue to exist in the future, however, they may stop operating and no longer exist. The value of digital currency is volatile and you are responsible for carefully assessing your personal conditions to avoid potential losses.
- C. Legal risks: Currently, digital assets are not recognised as legal tender in many jurisdictions and do not have essential value. Their legal position may affect your legal rights, obligations, declaration obligations and tax law obligations related to holding, purchasing, selling or trading digital assets. You are solely responsible for understanding the legal position and requirements for digital asset dealing and for complying with any and all relevant legal, tax or declaration requirements.
- D. Counter-party risks: The storage of digital currency in the custody of any third party may increase risk, including but not limited to security breaches, contractual default risk and risk of losses.
- E. Cybersecurity risks: All information technology systems, personal computers, mobile phones and websites may be compromised or accessed without authorisation by malicious hackers, viruses, trojan horses, malware, computer codes or other means. Although we take all reasonable measures to reduce risks, we do not guarantee that risks can be fully controlled or avoided. In addition, we do not exercise control over the computers, mobile phones or terminals you use to access our website and you are solely responsible for ensuring that your computers, mobile phones or terminals are safe at all times.
- F. Online and electronic transaction risks: Please note that delays or failures of transactions may occur caused by computer equipment, hardware, software, and internet connections.
